for she was having too much fun so the little boy tried to and the little girl have Even more still did not notice

the little boy Started getting

and had fun
no fun more.

the little girl thought one day got bored too So went & talked with the little boy and they sat bored together and then it occurred to the little girl, probably because of her fun loving

... for there was no fun there
with no fun boy.

the little boy noticed
any way though and asked why she was Smiling...

She Laughed and Clapped and told No fun boy how fun he really was!

AND THIS UPSET HIM.

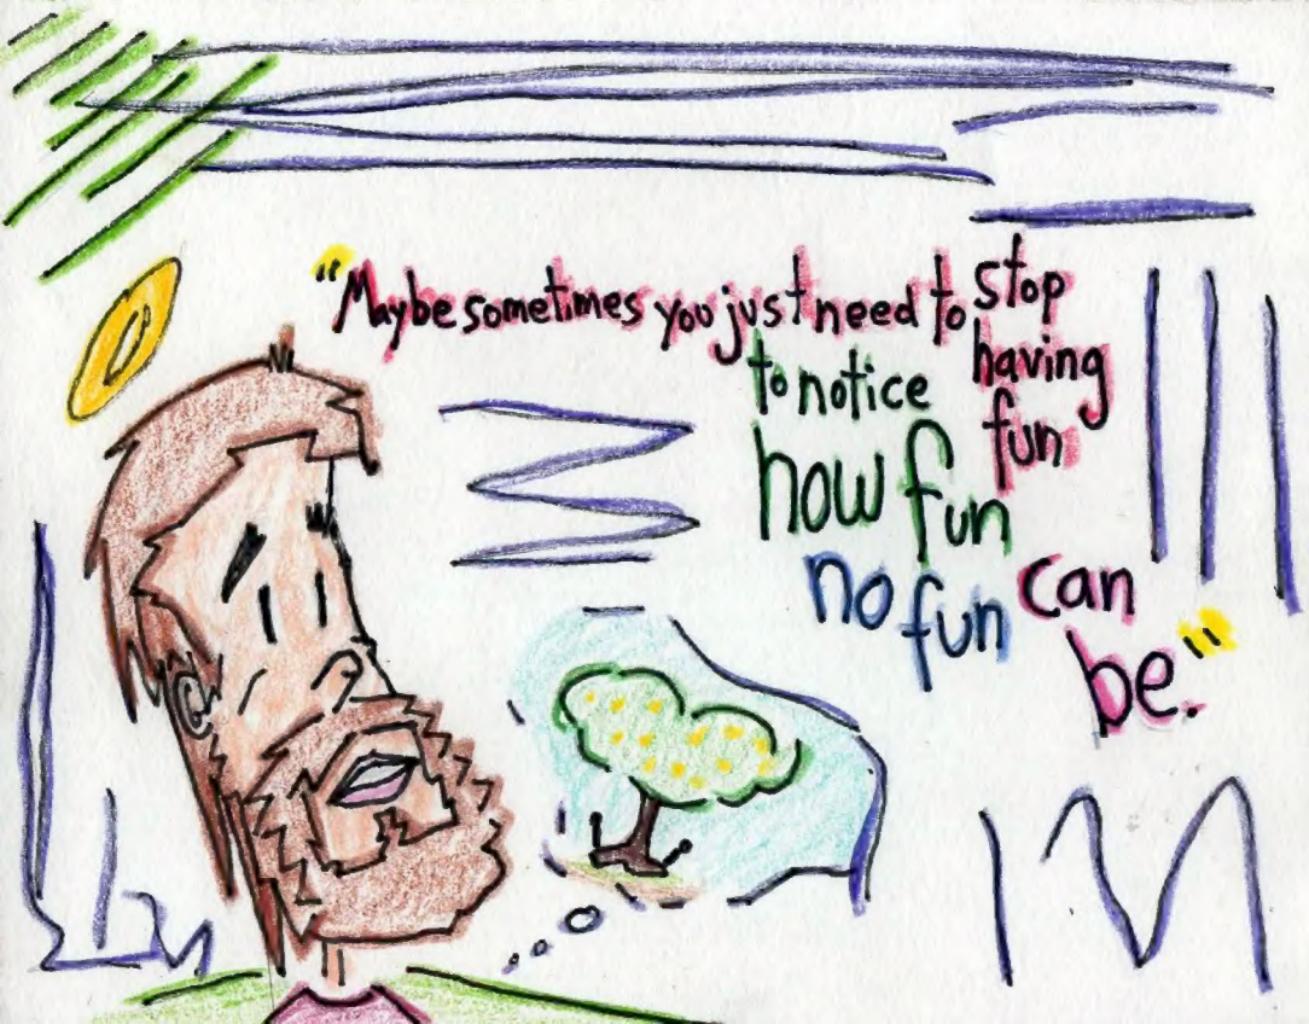

He Yelled and Scolded
for how much fun he tried to have,
for how little fun he had,
and Still did not get noticed.

and now that she noticed the little no fun boy
it was his no fun
that she liked anyway

"Maybe sometimes you just need to stop to notice having how fun
no fun can

And She taught him fun
and he taught her no fun

And they both had fun
and no fun
and forgot the difference
